SUNDAY BULLETIN

May God Bless Our Veterans

Today we remember and honor our veterans.

We invite you to light a candle to honor those who have served our country and defended freedom.

Let us pray for and honor those who have served in the past and those who defend us today.

Candles are available in the Vestibule.

Masks are optional in the sanctuary and in all church complex buildings.

Holy Communion will be distributed using enhanced safety practices.

Approach the altar, make sign of the cross, present the back of your hand,

Holy Communion will be placed on the back of your hand, consume at the altar.

Readings of the Day:

Is. 25:9-26:7. Phil. 1:1-11. Lk. 9:44-50.

Today's Bible reading is from the Gospel of Jesus Christ according to St. John, chapter 1, vs. 35-45 and will be read by Veteran Bruce Newell.

From Today's Bible Reading

Luke 9:44-50 Although they have just heard their beloved Master predict His betrayal, the disciples blithely begin to argue about who among them will be the greatest. Jesus derails their misguided debate by bringing a child to His side and challenging them to understand that the helpless and “least” in the world’s eyes must gain their attention first. The theme of welcoming extends to the strange exorcist for whom He also asks a generosity of heart.

Reflection: In what ways do you reach out to the “least”?

Philippians 1:1-11 St. Paul joyfully remembers the Philippians as deeply faithful and thinks of them as his fellow travelers, sharing in God’s grace. He affirms that because of their faith and missionary zeal (“your partnership in the gospel from the first”), God will continue to work in their lives and will bring their mission to “completion” at the end of time.

Reflection: This is the most joyful of St. Paul’s letters, as he cheerleads his beloved church in Philippi. Who is your spiritual cheerleader right now?

Isaiah 25: 9-26:7 These verses begin with an oracle against Moab, a neighbor of Judea, and end in Chapter 26 with a beautiful psalm-like prayer of trust in God. Reflection: In v. 26:4, we are advised to “trust in the Lord forever.” What awaits us if we do?

Saturday, November 17: Holy Apostles Andrew and Philip

We read in the gospels of Matthew (4:18-20) and Mark (1:16-18) that while walking beside the Sea of Galilee, Jesus noticed two fishermen, Andrew and his brother, Simon Peter, casting their nets. He famously called them to “Follow Me and I will make you fishers of men.” This universal paradigm of discipleship and witness suggests that when we follow our Lord, we are changed by Him, and to such a degree that we want to share this with others that they too might follow and be transformed. Tradition reports that after preaching in Greece, Anatolia and elsewhere, Andrew was arrested and crucified on an x-shaped cross, feeling himself unworthy to be crucified as Jesus was. Like Andrew, Philip was from Bethsaida. After he was called by Jesus, he tells Bartholomew (John 1:45) -- who doubts anything “good can come from Nazareth” -- to “come and see.” An account of his martyrdom relates that Philip was arrested with Bartholomew but brought about the latter’s release even though he himself was crucified. Outside of the Gospels, incidents from the lives of these two apostles can be found in histories, hagiographies, and anonymous Acts.

About Mark

Mark DerMugrditchian is a man who throughout his life has always believed in thinking big and making his dreams happen by working hard. From working in a lumber yard at the age of 21 to traveling throughout North America for a fortune 100 company in a sales/marketing role and everything in between, he worked hard to achieve his goals. He even had his own Armenian band playing at weddings and other events. Outside of work he remains active enjoying bike riding, playing tennis, golfing, swimming, skiing, camping, hiking, scuba diving and much more, but his big passion is sailing. He believes through faith in God we can achieve our dreams.
